Long Way Home" has been commissioned by the European Union mission to the United Nations and is on display at the EU Commission building in New York. The moody landscape photographs were shot on location in Sweden. She also supplies lifestyle imagery and portraits to Getty. Her photographs in editions of 8 to 15, mounted on board so as to be "seamless and floating" retail for about $1,000 to $1,800. Call (917) 715-1428 for details or visit: www.annamoller.net.

Duff's Print Benefits MS Society

Artist Lindsay Duff, who describes her imagery as "a reflection of our present consciousness," is seeking out spiritual and healing environments in which to place her art. At the same time, the artist is donating her giclée print "Life Is a Carousel," shown, as well as her painting "Clear Guidance," to a fundraising dinner benefitting the Multiple Sclerosis Society. For more information on Duff, who works out of her studio in Cardiff by the Sea, CA, and her artwork, telephone (760) 500-5633 or visit the artist's website: www.visionaryartbylindsay.com.
